

Community Health and Wellness Survey for Older Adults

The Community health and wellness survey for older adults gathers essential information to improve healthcare services and support systems. It focuses on the physical, mental, and social well-being of seniors, promoting active and healthy aging. The insights from this survey help tailor programs that enhance quality of life in the community.