

Factors Affecting Annual Performance Review Survey Results

Understanding the factors affecting annual performance review survey results is crucial for accurate employee evaluation. These factors include survey design, employee engagement, and the clarity of performance criteria. Addressing these elements ensures more reliable and actionable feedback.