

Segmenting Customer Feedback Survey Responses by Demographics

Segmenting customer feedback survey responses by demographics allows businesses to analyze distinct groups based on age, gender, location, and other characteristics. This targeted approach helps identify specific needs and preferences within each segment. Ultimately, it enhances decision-making and improves customer satisfaction.