

Factors Affecting Engagement in Remote Work Experience Survey

The factors affecting engagement in remote work include communication quality, work-life balance, and access to appropriate technology. Understanding these elements is crucial for improving employee satisfaction and productivity. This survey aims to identify key areas influencing remote work experiences.