

How to Create a Monthly Sales Report in Excel

Creating a monthly sales report in Excel involves organizing your sales data into a clear, concise format that highlights key performance metrics. Start by inputting your sales figures, then use Excel's built-in functions and charts to summarize and visualize trends over the month. This approach helps businesses track progress and make informed decisions.