

Safety Culture Survey Frequency Recommendations

Conducting a safety culture survey regularly is essential to identify workplace risks and improve safety practices. It is recommended to perform the survey annually or biennially to effectively track progress and address emerging issues. Consistent frequency ensures a proactive approach to maintaining a safe work environment.