

Training Needs Assessment Survey for Manufacturing Industry

A training needs assessment survey for the manufacturing industry identifies skill gaps and learning requirements to enhance workforce productivity. This survey helps in tailoring effective training programs that align with industry standards and operational goals. Implementing targeted training ensures improved performance and safety on the manufacturing floor.