

Factors Affecting Job Satisfaction Survey Results

The factors affecting job satisfaction survey results include work environment, employee recognition, and compensation. Understanding these elements helps organizations improve workplace morale and productivity. Accurate analysis of these factors is essential for developing effective employee retention strategies.