

Primary Care Patient Satisfaction Survey Factors

The primary care patient satisfaction survey factors include:

- Communication clarity: Clear and effective communication between providers and patients.
- Wait times: The length of time patients wait before being seen by a healthcare professional.
- Provider empathy: The provider's ability to understand and address patient concerns with compassion.

These elements significantly impact patients' overall healthcare experience and trust in their primary care providers. Understanding these factors helps improve quality of care and patient retention.
